Beer Attacked

Preceding the assigning of pastors, the conference adopted a resolution which struck a blow at the newly legalized beer, at kidnapping, crime in general, apparent lack of cooperation between federation and state governments in the handling of crime, military training in schools and radio advertising of liquor and cigarettes.

Of beer, a resolution was passed calling upon all pastors to discontinue from their pulpits the sale of the beverage in grocery stores, drug stores and restaurants.

Another resolution opposed the sale of liquors at canteens reportedly set up near reforestation camps where young men are now employed and still another opposed the transportation of cigarettes into these camps.

The resolution protesting radio advertising of liquor and cigarettes will be sent direct to the federation radio commission at Washington.

The Ohio conference will meet in Cleveland in 1934.

ORDERS POOL CLOSED IN WAR ON TYPHOID

Hardin County Health Commissioner Continues Effort To Check Disease.

Special to The Star

KENTON, O., Aug. 28 — Health Commissioner J. H. Holcomb today closed a bathing pool in Gormley park at Forest after receiving a report from the state department of health that an analysis of the water in the pool had disclosed it to be "unsatisfactory" for bathing. The water contained typhoid fever germs. Dr. Holcomb was quoted as saying, "At the same time, Dr. Holcomb announced he had taken samples of water from other Hardin county pools and quarries to have analyses made in an effort to trace the source of typhoid fever which has taken the lives of two Hardin county residents in the last week and made seven persons ill."

Dr. Holcomb said he had asked Logan county health officials to have a water analysis made at an Indian Lake resort, after learning that Mrs. Foster Derr, 21, of Kenton, one of the two victims of the disease, had bathed there a short time before she was taken ill. The other victim had bathed in the pool in Gormley park. Dr. Holcomb said, "Four typhoid fever cases have been reported from Forest, three from Kenton and two suspected cases near Kenton, it was reported."

his volunteers after warning that "even a shadow" of boycott intimidation and violence "would spoil this whole endeavor." He added: "But there must not be the slightest misunderstanding. It is not a boycott for the people of a distressed country to say they are going to stick to those who do their part to cure a common evil and to ignore those who refuse to do so. To do otherwise would be to frustrate the national purpose."

When Johnson made his address last night he had just completed one of the NRA's biggest tasks and was deep in critical negotiations to try for completion of a second. The first was the automobile code, which now signed by President Roosevelt, will be binding upon all that industry, except the Ford company, on Sept. 5, the day after Labor day. Ford, virtually the only non-signer, will have a further 10-day period to determine his course.

The second task was the attempt to obtain an agreement between non-union cool operators and union labor upon a code for all the bituminous fields. Negotiations were at a standstill with both sides looking to President Roosevelt and Johnson for the next move. The administration has the power—heretofore unused—to impose a code if no agreement is reached.

Johnson sent forth his volunteer corps with a reminder that "you are patient missionaries and neither snoots nor policemen," he added:

To Seek Evidence

"For about two weeks we shall confine all action to an intense effort to see that the obligations of the blue eagle are understood by every man who files one. In the meantime we shall collect evidence in the few important cases of big and thoroughly informed employers who seem knowingly and wilfully to have taken on this obligation with a deliberate intention of violating it to mislead and defraud their employees and their customers. The opening gun of the enforcement campaign will be a painstaking, fair, open, public hearing of these cases and if they prove to be what reports indicate, we shall use every lawful and proper means to protect the public and their competitors against such destructive, unpatriotic and unfair conduct."

Women Organize To Aid NRA Drive

Mrs. E. J. Hollandshead was named president of a group of women organized to cooperate locally with President Roosevelt's NRA program when about 100 women met yesterday afternoon with members of the Federal Labor union in the Labor Union hall. The organization will function as an auxiliary to the Federal Labor union and is open to all women wishing to take an active part in cooperating with the program, Mrs. Hollandshead stated today.

Mrs. Hollandshead gave a short talk at the meeting in which she pointed out the aim of the NRA and the part women could play in cooperating with the plan. Another meeting will be held next Sunday afternoon at the Central Labor Union hall.

in order to cooperate with the NRA movement as early as possible. Details of the national code have not been made known, the managers said. Managers attending the meeting were R. H. Howard of the Palace theater, Rex Young of the Marion, Charles Settes of the State, and John J. Huebner of the Ohio.

Speculation Aroused by Inspection of German Border Fortifications.

PARIS, Aug. 28 — Premier Edouard Daladier's visit to the frontier after declaring that France had resolved to guarantee Austrian independence aroused keen interest in political circles today.

In a statement issued before he left to inspect trenches and digouts over a 125-mile front, the premier declared, "France wants peace, but it is a duty to assure our own liberty which will be better respected when it is known we are capable of guaranteeing it."

"We must also be on guard," he continued, "to see that decisions of the regular organisms, or European life—the League of Nations and the Hague court of arbitration—are observed and maintained."

"They have notably proclaimed and defined the political and economic independence of Austria. We are resolved to guarantee it."

"The smaller, weaker, and less populous states have the same rights as those of larger population and area."

Meanwhile, several Socialist members of the chamber of deputies, speaking at a meeting at Angoulême said they feared war within a few weeks if fascist control should spread to Austria.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO SHORT CHANGING

Two Marion Men Arrested in Connection With Alleged Fraud.

Simpson Cross, 25, of Marion, rural route No. 4, was arraigned in municipal court this morning on a fraud charge, in connection with the alleged working of a "short change" trick at a grocery and filling station in Oakland Heights Saturday night.

Cross pleaded not guilty and is to have a preliminary hearing Tuesday at 9 a. m. H. F. Hildreth, 30, of 369 West Columbia street, was arrested with Cross as driver of the car which the two allegedly were using. No charge had been filed against him at noon today. Hildreth told authorities he was unaware of Cross' activities but had been asked by Cross to take him out to Oakland Heights "to see some fellows."

Frank Beck, operator of a filling station at Davis street and Woodrow avenue, filed an affidavit charging Cross with shortchanging him of $5. Police said Cross also tricked C. D. Kimmel, proprietor of Kimmel's market at 768 Davis street, out of $5.

Cross and Hildreth were arrested about 10 p. m. on Senate street, where they had been traced after the victims gave police the license number of the car.

Beck said Cross bought three gallons of gasoline for Hildreth's car and tendered a $10 bill in payment. Getting his change, Cross then asked for the $10 bill back. Beck said, and offered him a $5 bill and five one-dollar bills. Beck said he gave Cross the $10 and later found that Cross had not given him $5 along with the one-dollar bills. Kimmel said the same trick was used in his store.

SURPLUS OF WHEAT AGAIN FACED IN U.S.

Acreage Reduction Plan Is Barrier as Many Plans Increases.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 — The position of America's bulging wheat crops popped up again today as a major problem, the agricultural adjustment administration, and more than a score of governments in signing a London pact to cut down wheat production and to open foreign markets.

While one group in the agriculture department sought to speak up the campaign to reduce American wheat acreage, from some 20 million acres to 15 million, the largest producing areas will have vast "exportable surplus" this year—the Pacific northwest and the southwest.

Meanwhile the export movement of wheat has slowed down to a mere trickle compared with years past and doubts have arisen whether the wheat acreage reduction plan will offset unofficial reports that farmers not joining in it contemplate increasing their production.

Reports are coming to farm administrators that many farmers, tempted by better prices for wheat and the drafting of both national and international policies to improve the position of wheat growers, have "cash in" by expanding their production.

Schools of South Not To Be Greatly Affected by NRA Child Labor Rules

Abolition or reduction of child labor in industry might be expected to throw an additional burden on the schools when the potential supply of pupils is released. This is the second of three stories dealing with the phase of the recovery program.

By The Associated Press
SANTA, Aug. 28—Compulsory laws and cooperation of industrial plants over a period of years have reduced to a minimum any problems of under-enrollment that might be caused by adoption of the national program in the South.

Officials in states where mills and other industrial plants abound say they anticipate no difficulty in caring for additional children who will return to school this year under provisions of the law. They will not be allowed to work. School Attendance Compulsory laws make it compulsory for all children attend school until they have reached the age of 16. Those between the ages of 12 and 16 are not allowed to work without permit, issued upon application of local school superintendent.

A check of records at the Georgia department of industrial relations shows that between Jan. 1, 1932 and July 17, 1933, when the new code became effective, only 1,000 permits to work were issued to children between the ages of 14 and 16. These are scattered over more than a dozen communities and are absorbed by their respective schools without increasing the burden of attendance.

South Carolina authorities report only 950 children in that state were affected by the code and that the problem in caring for them is anticipated. Ample school facilities are provided in all industrial communities and cooperation of employers with school authorities in enforcement of the compulsory attendance law has reduced child labor to a low figure.

While elementary and high school revenues in the several states will Nationwide elimination of child labor is not expected to increase school enrollments appreciably in most of the southern states where textile mills operate. Generally there, children under 17 work under permit only and the total is reported small in relation to existing enrollments. Cotton-picking children, however, may have increased educational opportunities.

be somewhat lower than last year, educational officers say they do not expect a lessening of school efficiency as a result of the code. In Tennessee, where it is estimated 2,000 children will be thrown out of work under the codes, a decline of 25 per cent in school revenues is anticipated.

"This will not lessen school efficiency as much as it might appear at first glance," said James A. Roberts, assistant state commissioner of education, "because reduction in costs will offset a part of the loss." Labor Commissioner W. E. Jacobs of Tennessee says there are no children under 14 working in the state. "We are enforcing strictly the labor laws of this state with reference to children and women," he said. He pointed out that before a child under 16 can obtain a permit to work he must establish that his earnings are necessary to maintain either himself or his family. Fewer than 4,000 children are employed in industry in Alabama and since the state's total school enrollment is well over 600,000 they will have little effect on the schools should they enter.

Opportunity for Pickers
In the eastern and central parts of the South, where the cotton crops usually are tended by the small farmer and his family, there is a prospect that child cotton pickers will have more schooling as the result of the cotton acreage reduction program. Often in the past many of them have been kept out of school a month or so to finish the harvest. That's the view of Cully A. Cobb, cotton production administrator for the agricultural adjustment administration.

THIEVES ABANDON CAR, STEAL ANOTHER

Galion Machine Taken from Garage; Coupe Found Along Street.

GALION, Aug. 28—An abandoned car with Pennsylvania license which contained cartons of aluminum and silver products, and a coupe stolen from the garage of R. E. Stewart at 743 Grove avenue this city was believed to be used by the same thieves, according to local police. R. E. Stewart reported Sunday morning that his car had been taken from the garage at his home some time between Saturday night and Sunday morning.

Police later found a large coupe abandoned on the extension of West Atwood street just north of the Stewart residence. It contained four large cases of silverware, coffee percolators, four small boxes of silver, three cartons of percolators and several cartons of waffle irons. The car carried a Pennsylvania license No. S 9-222.

Frank Cook, chief of police, stated that he believed the Stewart car was taken after the other car was abandoned with the gas tank empty. Authorities were trying to trace the Pennsylvania car today.

IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW
Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobacco than any other popular brand. They are milder, richer in flavor. They never tire your taste or get on your nerves.

STEADY SMOKERS TURN TO CAMELS
A. M. Wilkins, air-mail ace, says: "It's a steady gain, all right, being a night hawk on the air mail. A man has to have healthy nerves to live up to our tradition that the mail must go through! That's why I smoke Camels. And I smoke plenty! Camels never ruffle or jangle my nerves, and I like them mild, rich flavor."

Steady smokers turn to Camels because the milder tobacco in Camels never tire the taste—never get on the nerves.
Your taste and your nerves will confirm this. Start smoking Camels today and prove it for yourself. It is more fun to know!

WITH CIRCUS

plaints brought against Mr. Mills are unknown. It is believed that they centered around circumstances leading to Mr. Mills' appointment.
It was explained that Mr. Mills was fifth on the civil service list for the office at the time an appointment was to be made, but that two of the holders of the three high grades withdrew from the list before an appointment was made, thus advancing Mr. Mills to third place and making him eligible for appointment.

OSMUN EXPERT ELECTRICIAN

South State Street Place Equipped To Give First Class Service.

Specialization is the keynote of the hour in practically all lines. It is necessary for the best service.
The wide range of both knowledge and experience necessary to fit a man for any one line of work is too great to permit one to master all related lines as well. That is as true in mechanical processes as it is in the professions. The electrical system of modern household appliances for example, is too complicated for tinkering. It needs the attention of a master of electricity as well as of mechanical knowledge.

For that reason some shops have specialized on this kind of work and met with a success that shows expert service is worth while. C. W.
Osmun Electrical repair shop, of 127 South State street, has met with an unusual measure of success in taking care of electrical equipment, household appliances principally because Mr. Osmun is able to give the expert, specialized service that this part of the equipment calls for.

With its fine equipment and experienced personnel, this concern is well qualified to solve your troubles with the electrical features of your home units, regardless of the make or for what purpose used. A phone call to 6121 will get you immediate attention.

THROUGH DEATH VALLEY WITHOUT WATER

When Norman R. Wood of New York took his motor-car down into the scorching depths of Death Valley to test qualities of gas and oil, he took the radiator off his car and had no water circulating through the engine. For 10 hours without stopping, he ran this car on a salt-encrusted track roughed out in Death Valley, where the temperature was 130 degrees.

Fearing the effect of the terrific heat on ordinary tires, he made the test on streamline Jumbo low-pressure tires. In order that the test would not fail due to tire blow-outs, Wood is shown above with his

NU-WAY SHOP SAVES SHOES

Expert Repair Work Will Cut Cost of Family's Footwear.

When one thinks of the usage of a pair of shoes he need no wonder that they wear out. Of course the older members of the family are more likely to conserve shoes than the youngsters, but nevertheless there is a great deal of weight put on shoes and they get a treatment as our visitor along that is comparable to touching them to a grindstone occasionally with anywhere from 125 to 250 pounds pressure.

Youngsters give them even worse treatment. No boy and few girls think anything about preserving shoes. They are simply necessities, and the fact that sliding along an asphalt pavement behind a truck will wear them out never enters the lad's head.

Consequently good shoe repair is a big aid to the family purse.
The Nu-Way Shoe Repair at 125
West Center street is a sort of first aid station in this respect. Incidentally the Nu-Way thinks people would do well to bring in shoes to be repaired a little earlier than most of them do. A new half sole before the shoe is run over is worth twice as much as one made after the shoe has lost its shape.

The Nu-Way's experience enables it to make good repair. The operators know what the weak spot is and how to remedy it. Their work speaks well for them in this respect. You will find that what you leave for the Nu-Way and its employees will be well done, neatly done, and done at a fair price.

All-Modern Equipment in Clock Restaurant Kitchen

The average person, knowing a good deal about the exteriors of a restaurant but less about the interiors, would be both entertained and surprised to see a modern restaurant backstage.

Time was when cooking consisted of a huge fireplace, an open fire, several pots and pans, two smoked eyes and a tickled palate. Those were the days when foods were simple and prepared simply. The aromas of stews, boilings, roasts, grillings, braising and broiling worked up powerful appetites. Little food was fried.

But in modern times, when restaurants must cater to all types of appetites, the accomplishments of eating houses must be at the peak of versatility, according to M. F.
Decker, of the Clock restaurant, one of Marion's popular food dispensaries located at 134 South State street.

In the kitchen of the restaurant is some of the most modern of cooking equipment with which the Clock is enabled to serve the best.
The place caters to the taste of the customer—as he or she will have it, so it will be done.

Everything possible is done to live up to the slogan, "Two places to eat, at home and the Clock, for when the business man is rushed, cannot take the time to go home,
it is the Clock.

"Our roasting and baking process is one of our secrets," said Decker.
"Notice if you will the strides forward we have made over the old fireplace. See the advantages of oven and modern accessories. We maintain a standard of home cooking that makes even our own waitresses wonder.

LOCAL THEATERS TO BOOST PRICES

Change Will Result from New State Amusement Tax.

Theater prices in Marion will advance five cents effective Friday, Sept. 1, as managers put into effect the latest state amusement tax according to an announcement today.

Children's admissions will remain the same, managers said, since the charge of 10 cents is exempt from the state tax. The State theater, which has an admission charge of 10 cents, will also be exempted from the tax, theater men said.

The state tax provides a levy of two cents each on afternoon admissions and three cents on evening tickets.

Large Congregation Hears Pastor's Farewell Sermon

Epworth M. E. church was filled nearly to capacity last night by friends of Rev. G. G. Canfield of the First Church of the Brethren, gathered to hear him deliver his farewell sermon in Marion. The sermon on "The Art of Appreciation" was given at a union service.

This morning Rev. and Mrs. Canfield and daughter Catherine left for Plymouth, Ind., where Rev. Canfield has accepted a pastorate. Their home will be at 224 Dickson street.

Rev. Canfield declared himself to a student of the art of appreciation, rather than a teacher, as one hearing testimony rather than giving advice as to the fineness of the art.

"The great heart of God, appreciated man enough to give him the authority and keys to the kingdom, so why should not man appreciate God enough to give him all to Him," Rev. Canfield said. He told of some of the characters of the Old Testament who knew God and appreciated Him, looking forward to the coming of Christ.

"When advocates of the Christian life experience redemption there is an appreciation of Christ that causes folks to love each other and their God, so that fellowship is indeed pleasing," he said.

Dr. C. E. Turley, pastor of Epworth, presided. A group of ministers presented Rev. Canfield with books for his library.

Proceeding the union worship service, the Christian Young people's union met at Epworth church.
